

Dear scientist,

dear student,

we are pleased to announce the 1st Science Parade at Campus-Krems organized by the Karl Landsteiner University.

Over the last decades, the University Campus with its universities, the Karl Landsteiner University (KLPU), the University for Continuing Education (UWK), and the IMC-Krems grew steadily. Together with the Danube University (DPU), Krems is increasingly recognized as an international research location. Hence, meanwhile many scientists with specific scientific expertise are based at Technopol Krems and the number continues to grow. In addition to the various research focuses, all Universities in Krems host specific research technologies and instrumentation, which could be further exploited for ongoing and future university spanning collaborations.

With the Science Parade, we are aiming to bring all research group leaders, postdocs, students, and stakeholders together in a scientific meeting to exchange and discuss ongoing and future projects at the universities in Krems.

Join us for the 1st Science Parade on February 5th, 2025

You are invited to give a short presentation (15 min plus 5 min discussion) or to present a poster (A0, portrait). All students and early career researchers at any stage of their career are welcome to join the symposium!

Register here

Registration deadline: January 6th, 2025

All abstracts will be screened by the program committee, and abstract submitters will be notified about their type of presentation by email no later than January 13th! Best poster and best presentation awards will be sponsored by our supporters.
